

A chance to win an iPod and contribute to the design of your course!

Dear Student,

Congratulations on your enrolment in the Diploma of Health Sciences.

Your university studies will help you to build skills that will continue to be useful throughout your life. Information literacy, the ability to know when information is needed and how to find and use information effectively, is one of the important attributes that Monash University encourages its students to develop for lifelong learning.

The attached questionnaire is investigating several aspects of information literacy. We ask for your input so that the Faculty and the Library can collaborate to provide an information literacy program that is as relevant as possible to your course needs.

Your responses will be totally anonymous, we will be looking at results of the group, not individuals. As your own response will contribute to the group picture please do not consult anyone else when answering the questions.

Please return the completed questionnaire in the envelope provided by Friday 11 February at the latest. Include the sealed white envelope with your entry to the draw for the iPod. Only entries accompanied by a completed questionnaire will be eligible for the draw.

The prize will be drawn on 23 February 2005 during your orientation session which starts at 2.15 pm in the George Jenkins Theatre at Monash University Peninsula campus. The winner will also be notified in writing.

If you would like further information about this questionnaire please contact your Subject Librarian, Joyce Jenkin (email joyce.jenkin@lib.monash.edu.au, telephone 9904 4303).

Thank you,
